THE EFFECTS OF LIQUOR DRINKING.

Poor McDonald Clark, sometimes called the mad poet wrote these lines:

Ha! see where the wild blazing grogshop appears,
As the red waves of wretchedness swell;
How it burns on the edge of the tempestuous years,
The horrible lighthouse of hell.

Every honorable man feels to impeach the monster intemperance. It is a folly, a crime without excuse Laziness, gambling, stealing, fighting murdering, are all connected with drunkenness. The vice, common as it is in America, has not a redeeming quality.

In 1867 the policemen of New York and Brooklyn arrested 70.000 persons, of which liquor was the producing cause. Philadelphia, in the same year. made 40,000 arrests, and Chicago 23,000; more than 20,000 of which were caused by dram drinking. Bar rooms and saloons are the hatching places of nearly all the iniquities and crimes of the land.

Judge Cady, of New York state declares that "the greater portion of the trials for murders, and assaults and batteries that were brought into court since his entrance upon the practice of law, originated in drunkenness."

Judge Patterson, of Norwich, England, addressing a grand jury, said:—"If it were not for this drinking you and I would have nothing to do."

Judge Coleridge says: "There is scarcely a crime comes before me that is not directly or indirectly caused by strong drink."

Judge Gurney declares: "Every crime has its origin more or less in drunkenness."

Judge Anderson says; "Drunkenness is the most fertile source of crime; and, if it could be removed, the assizes of the country would be rendered mere nullities."

Judge Wightman, also says: "I find in every calendar that comes before me, one unfailing source, directly or indirectly, of most of the crimes that are committed—intemperance."

Lord Acton, Supreme Judge of Rome, states, that "Nearly all the crimes of Rome are produced by wine"

Alcohol produces pauperism and wretchedness. Look at the shanties and hovels that swarm around breweries Where one manufacturer becomes rich a thousand families are ruined. Rumsellers are non-producers. Tippling ends in poverty or worse The Rev. G. Holt, Chaplain of the Birmingtom Workhouse, says 'that ninety-nine out of every hundred are reduced to such need through strong drink."

The secretary of the state of New York, in 1863, reported to the legislature that the whole number of paupers relieved during the year was 262,252; and seven eights of these were made paupers by strong drinks.

Are not inebriates as thoroughly murdered when their ragged and ulcerated bodies are hurried into the potter's field, as they would be if the work had been done in a moment by the clean glistening blade of the assassin? Shall we not call the trafficker who thus vilely prepares them for the pine box, and express wagon, and potter's field, a murderer as justly as if he should come out from behind his bar, and armed with a dagger instead of strychnine, stand in the darkness near your door, and when your boy, your first born, comes out, spring on him and with one fell blow leave him dead in his own gore, while you and your companion mourn and vainly call him back to life? These sixty thousand men are murdered! What a crime! What an army annually to march into the world of spirits!

These victims have not gone down alone. See the crimes they have been caused to commit. In the United States in the year 1867 there were caused by alcohol, 480 cases of suicide, 700 murders, 1,350 rapes, 4,000 robberies, 4,000 cases of arson, 100,000 cases of larceny and theft, not to mention the countless brawls, rows, fights, wife beatings, and child beatings and the like.

There are 1,000,000 drunkards in United States, 3,000,000 of children of drunkards, 3,000,000 of women so closely related to these 1,000,000 drunkards as to be the victims of their crimes, and sharers of their woe and wretchedness; more women than there were people in all this republic in the days of the revolution. 200,000 people yearly go to prison, sent by alcohol; 200,000 are sent to the poorhouse, and 200,000 orphans are bequeathed to charity.

The tendency, the whole moral influence of spiritualism is against the use of liquors. And it is a matter of congratulation that Dr. E. C. Dunn, Cephas B. Lynn, and other spiritualist speakers are eloquent advocates of temperance. J. M. P.

'Young man, do you ever drink?' asked a mild looking man, accosting Jones. 'Well, yes, thank you, it's a cold morning I don't mind,' replied Jones, removing his quid of tobacco. 'Don't do it any more,' rejoined the mild man, or you will eventually be damned. Good morning, God bless you.'

A GOOD ONE ON BUTLER.

A rather amusing story is in circulation at the expense of the eminent gentleman from Massachusetts, commonly called Old Strabismus. At the President's levee the other night, which was densely crowded, an old lady from the interior, somewhere in a fainting condition, requested her husband to get an ice.

"Can't be did," responded hub, in some irritation; "there ain't no refreshments here."

"Don't believe it. Did n't we get plenty at Belknap's the other day?" the good womrn answered angrily. "Now go and get me an ice and some lemonade."

"I tell you don't be a fool; there ain't no refreshments, everybody says so," grunted the lord and master.

"You are quite mistaken, sir," said the Hon. S S. Cox, who happened to be near, and who never loses an opportunity to put in a joke. "The president always provides substantially. There is his butler, whose business it is to show the ladies to the supper room," and the Hon. jester pointed to Gen. Butler. "You'll find him little stuck up, cross, but you mustn t mind that. Tell him you want terrapins."

This was said so gravely that the two struggled through the crowd to where the general stood talking to some ladies.

"I say, mister; are you the butler?" said the man.

"I'm General Butler," replied old Strabismus, pleasantly, thinking the two some country people filled with admiration for his greatness.

"I don't care whether you are a general butler or not, but my wife wants some tarrapins and lemonade."

"Sir?" snorted old Ben, in amazement and disgust.

"Oh, don't take on airs, old cock. Come, now, hurry up with them tarrapins."

"You must be drunk, sir! you must be drunk."

"No he ain't," screamed the wife—he's a knight templar, he ain't drunk, but I guess you are."

Roars of laughter greeted this, in which Mr. Cox was forced to join. Gen. Butler reddened in the face, and began puffing his cheeks out in a most violent manner.

"I don't understand this violent conduct. What do you want, sir?—what do you want?"

"Tarrapins, I tell you"

"What do you take me for, you cursed fool?" roared Ben.

"You call me a cursed fool and I'll hit you on the snoot," screamed the man

At this juncture an officer of the police seized the belligerent husband and led him away, amid much laughter. Butler turning suddenly, saw the mischief-maker.

"I say, Cox, did you do that?"

"Well, yes, I'm afraid I did."

"Well, I owe you the terrapins, and I'll pay you, mind that—I'll pay you."

And the two walked lovingly away.

BAD AIR.

Air, the breath of life, is the first want of the human being, and it is also the last. At every pulsation during life we need this life sustaining element. Yet one would suppose by the bad ventilation of houses, churches. theatres, that a man was made to live without air—at least, that it was a matter of indifference whether he had much or little, or whether it was good or bad. We read in the papers of the death of persons from suffocation in wells, mines, or by escaping gas, and we are startled, wondering why people will be careless, yet thousands of people die by inches, or only half live, in consequence of the impurity of the air which they breathe. If one is shut up in a small room without any admission of fresh air, the air contained within the room soon becomes impure by having been breathed over and over, and very great lassitude or depression of life and spirit is the consequence. The blood requires to be revitalized constantly within the lungs, by coming in contact with atmospheric air. Indeed, that is the whole office of the lungs, to aerate or revitalize the blood, which is there met by the atmospheric air, and changed from dark venous blood to bright scarlet arterial blood, preparing it to carry life to every part and tissue of the system. In the lungs the blood loses many of its impurities, and takes on the life giving oxygen from the air; and in proportion as the air is abundant and pure which we breathe, in that proportion we have the glow of health and the enthusiasm of living which comes from well vitalized blood.

The Joliet (Ill) Republican has the following at the head of its column of reading notices;

'Some men are born mean; some men achieve meanness; and some men have meanness thrust upon them. The first class take their country paper without intending to pay for it; the second class get it a year for nothing and then refuse to take it out of the post-office; and the third class won't subscribe for it because generous neighbors loan them copies.'

A toast at a public dinner in Connecticut: The Nutmeg State, where shall we find a grater?

PUTTING GRINDSTONES IN ORDER

It is impossible for any one to put a tool properly on a stone that wabbles like a drunken carriage wheel. In order to grind the bevil of a chisel or plain-iron true, the periphery of the grindstone must revolve as true as a mill stone. The first step towards putting a stone in proper order is to measure from the center or the eye of the periphery, on four sides, for the purpose of determining whether the stone had been worn off more on one side than on the other. When a stone is driven by a treadle, a large part of the grinding is done on one side of the stone when the treadle is going down. In such cases the stone should be re-hung with the journal nearer one side of the eye than the center of it. After it has been hung as true as practicable, screw down the caps of the bearing boxes so that the journal will have no play; then with the end of an old file, turn a small groove near each edge of the periphery, after which dress off each side with a sharp cold-chisel an inch or more from the grinding surface. Now fix a solid rest close to each side of the stone, turn a small groove in each side of the stone, and dress off the prominent parts with a sharp cold-chisel. Always cut horizontally toward the middle of the stone from each side, and thus avoid splitting away large chips from the side of the periphery. Always use a light hammer or mallet and a small half-inch chisel, rather than a heavy hammer and chisel. With a heavy hammer and large chisel there will be great danger of chipping off a large piece of the stone beyond the mark. With a light hammer and small chisel, one can fit up the periphery of a wabbling stone, in a brief space of time, so that it will revolve satisfactorily true.—Industrial Monthly.

ANCIENT AND MODERN COMBS.

Combs are an emblem of civilization almost as much as knives and forks, or soaps and towels. The old Greeks and Romans, and even the Egyptians, made use of these articles, though the fashion of them was different from that of the present day. Some of our readers may have seen in their grandmothers' garrets specimens of old time comb, as much larger than ours as the old time bonnets were larger than the modern ones.

The first horn combs manufactured in this country were made in West Newbury, just after the Revolutionary War. A Hessian settled there who was accustomed to the working of horns into buttons and combs, and from him the art—if the rude workmanship of that day was worthy to be called an art—was taught to the native population. West Newberry has continued to lead in the business ever since, and to day it is one of the largest comb making towns in Massachusetts. Besides West Newbury, Leominster, Clinton and Northboro' used to be noted as comb towns, though all suffered more or less from the competition of the rubber manufacturies.

Forty years ago ladies' combs, which were larger than ladies' bonnets are now, used to be made in Newberyport for the South American market. They were often two to three feet wide, encircling two thirds of the head, and from six inches to a foot high on the back, the top being wrought in open work, and to these the S. American ladies fixed their veils. One comb consumed three horns, or an equal quantity of shell, and as much of the work was done by hand and with the saw, and the polishing was entirely manual labor, the prices were high—from twenty to fifty dollars.

MAKING SAND PAPER.—The American Builder gives the following simple directions for making sand paper, which will be both interesting and useful for the woodworker: Sand paper forms one of the most important items of expense with the carpenter who has any fine work to do, and since, as a rule, buys instead of manufacturing this material, a knowledge of the means by which he can produce sandpaper of a superior quality, at almost a nominal cost, must prove of value. The device for making it is simple and at hand to any one who has occasion to use the paper. A quantity of ordinary window glass is taken—that haking a very green color is said to be best—and pounded fine, after which it is poured through one or more sieves of different degrees of fineness, to secure the glass for coarse or fine paper. Then any tough paper is covered evenly with glue having about one third more water than is generally employed for woodwork. The glass is sifted upon the paper, allowed a day or two in which to become fixed in the glue, when the refuse glass is shaken off and the paper is fit for use. The sandpaper costs little and is better than that ordinarily bought, in which sand is frequently mingled with the glass. The suggestion here made is certainly worthy of note.

To be certain of the right kind of squashes compare them with your head. In adopting this rule, I first mistook pumkins for squashes; but by continued, careful comparison, I soon learned to detect the difference. But for some new beginners, it requires great caution.

In 1868, Horace Greeley, at a banquet in Montreal, made the following acute and suggestive remarks, as suggestive as Hamlet's soliloquy: "Mr. Webster was not only a gentleman, but he had the elementr of moral greatness; and he had faults as well. He failed only in one respect, and in this respect I differ from him—he wanted to be president, and I don't (Cheers and laughter.) But for that one misfortune he would have been the greatest man America ever produced. We have seen our greatest man, Mr. Chase, making the same blunder, I sease early, and died of it at a very old age. (Laughter.) General Lewis Cass died at about eighty-two, and up to the day of his death he wanted to be president No one ever escapes who catches the disease. He lives and dies in the delusion. Being a reader and an observer at an early age, I saw how it poisoned and paralyzed the very best of our public men, and I have carefully avoided it. That enables you to have a purer press and more fearless public men than you would otherwise have. We, at least, in our day have a president elect who did not try to be president. He was elected mainly on that account. (Renewed Laughter.)

Coming up from New York yesterday, I met a poor, disconsolate Wall street broker. His heart seemed broken, and his face was the picture of despair. I had been usher at his wedding a few months before, when he seemed the picture of happiness; or smiling, I said:

"Why, Charley! what has happened—what makes you sad?" I asked.

"O! Eli," he sighed, "I am all broken up. I have met with a dreadful misfortune."

"What is it, Charley?" I urged sympathetically.

"O! Eli, Nellie, my dear wife is dead!" and then he broke down. Pretty soon he continued: "Yes, I'm all broken up; I don't take any interest in anything now. My mind is constantly with my poor angel wife, I dream of her all the time, in the morning and at night, and—by the way, Eli, how did you say Erie closed to night?"

"Erie is down, and they are 'all off,' Charley"

"Well, that fs cheering," he sobbed, "for when I got 'short' on Nellie, I went 'short' of the whole market, and it's really very consoling to my grief to find things looking so cheerful on the street!" ELI PERKINS.

Here is a simple little experiment by which we can prove the existence of a small spot in the eyes. Shut your left eye, and with the right one look steadily at the saw buck just below, holding the paper ten or twelve inches from the eye:

X O

Now move the paper slowly toward the eye, which must be kept fixed on the sawbuck. At a certain distance the other figure—the letter O—will suddenly disappear; but, if you bring the paper nearer, it will come again into view. You may not succeed in the experiment on the first trial, but with a little patience you can hardly fail, and the suddenness with which the black spot vanishes and reappears is very striking. Now, examination has shown that when it disappears, its image falls exactly on the spot where the optic nerve enters the eye, thus proving that spot to be blind.

Since the potato bugs have again favored this region, an old farmer hitherto considered reliable tells the following: "In plowing a field I turned up a lot of potato bugs, which were very lively after their winter's incarceration. Scarcely had they come to light, when I heard a shrill whistle It startled me, and I looked around to see what caused it. I traced the sound to a stump and on it I found a venerable potato bug with a whistle, made by hollowing out a cornstalk, in which he was blowing vigorously." "Why did the bug blow?" we asked, in astonishment. "Why, don't you see, near this stump was a hill of potatoes, and this aged cuss was trying to marshall his hosts around it."

We don't believe the story,

Up in Vermont (says the Hearth and Home) there lived a reprobate family named Ransom. Once, however, they were induced to attend a meeting during a revival. They came late, and had hardly taken their seats, when the preacher gave out the hymn, 'Return ye ransom sinners home.' 'All right,' said the old man, getting up in a rage and clapping on his hat, 'Come along, ole woman and gals, we'll go home fast enough, and everybody in this ole church knows we didn't want to come.'

The best motto of the campaign is that of Glenni W. Scofield of Warren, Pa: "We are for the man that whaled, against the man that bailed, Jefferson Davis."

A Jew, on seeing a progidiously fine ham, remarked: 'Thou almost persuadest me to be a Christian.'

Never mix your drinks, is held to be a good rule with topers, and is not at all a bad one for milkmen to observe.

Coming Comet.—Prof. Agassiz comes to the conclusion that the continent of North America was once covered with ice for a mile in thickness, thereby agreeing with Prof. Hitchcock and other eminent geological writers concerning the glacial period. In proof of this conclusion, he says that the slopes of the Allegheny range of mountains are glacier worn to the very top, except a few points which were above the level of the icy mass. Mount Washington, for instance, is six thousand feet high, and the rough, unpolished surface of its summit, covered with loose fragments, just below the level of which glacier marks come to an end, tells that it lifted its head alone above the desolate waste of ice and snow.

In this region, then, the thickness of the ice cannot have been much less than six thousand feet, and this is in keeping with the same kind of evidence in other parts of the country, for when the mountains are much below six thousand feet, the ice seems to have passed directly over them, while the few peaks rising to that height are left untouched. The glacier, he argues, was God's great plow and when the ice vanished from the face of the land, husbandman.

The hard surface of the rocks were ground to powder, the elements of the soil were mingled in fair proportions, granite was carried into lime regions, lime was mingled with the more arid and unproductive granite district, and a soil was prepared, fit for the agricultural uses of man. There are evidences all over the polar regions to show that at one period the heat of the tropics extended all over the globe.

The ice period is supposed to be long subsequent to this and next to the last before the advent of man.

The Crawford (Mo.) Mirror is a weekly paper printed in the woods, upon a farm four miles from Steelville, the county seat, to which point the paper is sent for circulation. The situation is described as most beautiful, "surrounded as it is by nature in all her pristine loveliness—woods, wild flowers, myriads of birds singing all day, and at night the call of the whippo-will, the hoot of the owl, and the howl of the wolf." The editor gives among other, the following reasons for selecting that location:

'We own the office, and mean to do what we please with it; we own the house, which we have had fitted up to suit ourselvs; and we own the farm (of 230 acres) on which the printing house stands. We have six children, (the youngest ten years old) all of whom can and do set type. Our oldest daughters, Nellie and Dollie, can each set 1,000 ems of type per hour all day; they also write stories for the paper, editorials, locals, etc., and can use the scissors judiciously; while the eyes of our youngest daughter begin to exhibit a poetically frenzied appearance.

Late mail advices from Ireland state that emigration the present year to America will greatly exceed that of any preceding year. Whole districts of fertile country are becoming depopulated, and although wages have been raised in some places to nearly equal the rates in this country, that action seems to have no effect. The country now contains only about half the number of inhabitants that it did twenty-five years ago. Then the population numbered 8.000,000; now it is less than 4,000,000. The indications are that emigration from Prussia, Holland, Sweden and other countries will also be unusually large the present season. Verily, America is the hope of the world.

Fanny Fern says that when she sees a pretty man, with an apple head, and raspberry moustache with six hairs in it, paint on his cheeks, and a little dot of a goatee on his chin, with pretty little studs in his shirt bosom, and a little necktie that looks as if it would faint if it were rumpled, she always feels a desire to dig him with a pair of sugar tongs, drop him gently into a pot of cream, and strew pink rose leaves over the little remains"

A young man at a wedding in Branford recently, while promenading with a lady, chanced to approach the officiating clergyman, who, happening to be deaf, and supposing them to be the couple he had come to unite, immediately married them in spite of their remonstrance. They accepted the situation and commenced housekeeping.

Corpulent old lady—'I should like a ticket for the train.' Booking clerk (who thinks he will make a joke)—'Yes'm, will you go in the passenger train or in the cattle train?' Lady—'Well, if you are a specimen of what I shall experience in the passenger train, give me a ticket for the cattle train by all means.'

James Fisk, Jr., "run" a colored church in New York, and paid all the expenses. His grim reason was that he supported black Christians because there were no white Christians in New York.

Said a tipsy husband to his wife, "You need-needn't bl-lame me. 'Twas woman that first tem-tempted man to eat forbibben things." "That won't do," retorted the indignant wife. 'Woman may have first tempted man to eat forbidden things, but he took to drinking of his own accord."

The Saturday Review tells of a toast which was distributed in a festive occassion in England. It bore the inspiriting title, "Are you aware that you are going to hell?"

If the Baltimore convention nominates Greeley and Brown, what becomes of the pure, undultified democracy? Once that party was terribly down on amalgamation—and when they got to the learned word, miscegenation, they have harped upon it more than a thousand harpers upon a thousand strings. But what are the prospects now? The time has come—politically it looks as if the ancient democratic maidens, who, ten years ers and brothers not to allow them to marry niggers, are now about to wed the loudest of the screeching anti-slavery fanatics of other days. It's a solemn time! The end of the days of pure democracy have come. Democratic writers used to be great on ethnology. They proved to their unmitigated satisfaction that continuous amalgamation would result in a race of eunuchs. Now it looks as if they are about embarking in the policical eunuch business. And this brings the democracy to its day of judgment, when it has to be tried and condemned to vote for full grown, mature, persistent, life long abolitionists. Well, these are the days of progress, and we shall see what we shall see. "Anything to beat Grant."

Mr. Sumner has proposed a new constitutional amendment, abolishing the office of vice president, and providing for the election of president by the people, instead of by electors.

It is said that the president is going to Long Branch, a reputed fashionable resort. This will give his opponents a wonderful opening to gas, and for this reason if the president would choose to keep away from such places it might be better for him.

On account of threatened softening of the brain it is said that Mr Thompson, long president of the Pennsylvania Central, has concluded to go to Europe for rest. Tom Scott, his successor, the greatest railroad man living it is further said, has indications of the same affliction. To much head work is fatal very often.

The New York Herald, always a energetic newspaper, continues its enterprising course since the death of Mr. Bennett, as though no change had taken place. It is managed with the same industry, ability, and go ahead spirit which has always marked its course. Its managers are men of brains.

Although Pomeroy's Democrat (of N. Y.) don't foster the same sort of politics, in many respects, to we are partal, yet there is much to admire in the management of the paper for its bold, out-spoken course. The proprietor designs soon to further improve its mechanical appearance, and make it a still greater favorite of its patrons. Brick don't favor the Greeley movement.

Congress adjourned on Monday night of last week. As is too common there was near the end, excessive excitement among members, and Morgan of this state got so mad at Bingham that he called him a liar.

During the life time of James Gordon Bennett, his course was often severly criticised, but since his death his money commands universal respect for the many good qualities of the heart and head which he possessed. Although a newspaper publisher he died worth some $20,000.000.

At present the N. Y. Tribune is the Vishna, the Koran, the Talmud, the Bible of the democratic papers. It does now for them to swear by—in other days they swore at it.

Anti-slavery people can well recollect the time when the question of human rights shook the country, and when the proslavery champions were outraged by the abolitionists, they had a last resort as sort of clincher on their side, and it was this—"damn a nigger, anyhow." Now that imprecation is changed, for by the same party it is, d—n Grant anyhow.

The liberal party so called are in a very forgiving mood—they blot out all the sins of the rebels, but Grant is too big a transgressor—not forgiveness for him.

Livingstone, the great African traveler, who has often been reported dead is yet living, and it is hoped he soon will return home and make a report of what he has discovered in that strange land.

Democratic conventions in several of the states are coming out in favor of tariff and free trade—that is for Greeley and Brown. Anything to beat Grant. Well, it is their priviledge to work at it. It seems that the Hamans don't like to see Mordecai setting at the gate, so they want him out of that.

David S. Bryant was killed on the 3d inst, by Wm. Packard, both of Medina county, breaking his skull with the but of a whip.

Since the republican nominations Oregon has held an election in which the friends of the administraqion have achieved a decided victory.

Do free traders ever read history? If they do, it is to be hoped some of them have pondered the significance of the following extract from a speech of Lord Broughham, delivered in 1825, in which, describing the effect of the peace of the preceding year, which bound continental Europe to the use of British manufactures, and produced an excessive importation of British goods by those countries, he said:

"The peace of America has produced somewhat of the same effect, though I am very far from placing the vast exports which it occasioned upon the same footing the year before, both because ultimately the Americans will pay, which the excited state of the continent renders very unlikely, and because it was well worth while to incur a loss upon the first exportation in order by the glut to stifle in the cradle those rising manufactures in the United States which the war has forced into existence contrary to the natural course of things."

This reads almost as though it had been written yesterday. Our present protective tariff, which was established primarily on account of the requirements of the war, has resulted in increasing the manufactures and advancing the industrial progress and prosperity of the country to an extent hardly dreamed of a few years ago.

AERIAL SCIENCE.—Observer Sergeant Schaeffer, of the Signal service, himself in readiness to make a balloon ascension from Boston on the forth proximo, for the purpose of scientific observation of upper air currents. The ascension is to be the first of a series inaugurated by the War Department Signal Office for the solution of questions in relation to aerial currents. Sergeant Schaeffer is supplied with a complete set of instruments, and will make a formal report of the results of his opservations.

We notice by several of our exchanges that efforts are being made in neighboring towns and cities to have a good, old fashioned fourth of July. Pic-nics, speeches, firemen's tournament, &c are the order of the day. And shall Massillon be behind in this respect? So far we have not heard of any effort being made by our citizens to celebrate the birthday of the republic, in any manner or form whatever. It has been suggested that as our firemen have been prompt to answer the call to duty, and by their efficient efforts have several times during the past year saved valuable property from destruction, that it would not be more than fair for our citizens to give them a rousing celebration, and invite their brethren from other places to be present and participate with them in the exercise of the day. Who will be the first to take hold of this matter?

Recollect, next Friday, the 21st inst, Barnum's big show is to be here. Our city will be crowded by thousands. Barnum has labored to make the show business more moral and respectable than it was, and his men are not of the baser sort, so we are told But there are camp followers, such as gamblers, pickpockets and that sort who run after his show, so the papers say. If so we would warn people to not carry very full pocket books to the show.

Bro. Bukenbrod corrects us by stating that he did not mean to say any thing about any Columbiana courthouse ring, for he prints that he don't know of any such thing, but it was the ring which is in pursuit of congressional favors. Of course we stand corrected—but there are so many rings in these days, and we eagle eyed sentinels on the eternal watch towers of liberty, can hardly scribble an item without punching into the meshes of some ring.

P. C. Young, who conducted the Buckeye State, of New Lisbon so successfully while in that position, has with Dr. Moore of that place, purchased the establishment, and will take possession on the first of July next For a young man he has been a successful editor, and no doubt will enhance the value of the paper.

Friday evening some traveling customer with the aid of his lurid lights undertook to play off his tricks on our citizens by pretending to sell prize packages of candy, which, when opened had nothing in them. Whether he victimized anybody or not we have not heard, but when he disposed of two twelve dollar packages, getting the money therefore, we are informed that the purchasers on finding nothing in them demanded their money back and got it. We read previously of that fellow's doings elsewhere, where he got off on easier terms. People ought to understand by this time that if a man professes to give something for almost nothing, there is a cheat somewhere.

Something like a year ago those having authority in matters connected with the Ohio canal, appointed our fellow citizen, S. C. McDonald, to take charge of the northern division. Mr. M. has filled the place so well, that as a testimonial of his efficiency and capacity for performing the duties required he has been promoted to the control of the entire length of the canal. This is some evidence that he has given satisfaction to his appointers, and assurance that he will continue to carry out the wishes and designs of the board of control.

In several places we notice that the papers are boasting of new potatoes being in the market, and it is quite probable they soon will be here, if they are not already. It is about time.

Notwithstanding the rain storm on last Thursday evening the Episcopal festival at the American was a decided success. Considerable numbers were present and were handsomely entertained with strawberries and other choice delicacies of the season. Those ladies of all parties who have the management of these festivals render them very pleasant and attractive by appealing to those beautiful and elevating aids appropriate to such occasions. This one just referred to is an additional evidence of their good taste and skill in providing so choice an entertainment.

E. P. GRANT, Esq., for somethirty years a citizen of Canton, has removed to Kansas, as we see by last week's Democrat. Mr. G. prepared himself for the profession of law, and did something in that way, but he was more of a literary student, a profound thinker, and a somewhat successful essayist. His lectures on subjects requiring deep thought were much admired by some, and severely condemned by others, as he was not what may be termed an orthodox man.

Our Wadsworth neighbors have concluded to do the coming Fourth of July, and are making preparations in that way. But few other places are doing that.

Last week's Monitor tells us that seven [illegible] which they took, on Sunday, to the river side, and drank freely. Becoming drunk, they soon got noisy, and so disturbed the vicinity that next day they were arrested and fined each $8, and costs amounting to $5.25 more for each. They wont think that very cheap fun.

OUR SOLDIERS MONUMENT COMMITTEE met pursuant to adjournment, at the residence of Mrs J. M. Brown, on Prospect st., on Monday evening 17th inst. A permanent organization was effected by the selection of James H. Justus, Chairman, T. H. Seaman, Sec'y and James H Hunt, Treas.

It was, after full discussion, decided to divide the committee into sub-committees, for the purpose of canvassing the several wards of the city, and for that purpose Miss Katie Patton and Miss Lizzie Clark, with Jos K Russell and J. H. Hunt, were assigned 1st ward. Mrs Dr. Schertzer and ——— with Messrs A. S. Duly and T H Seaman 2d ward. Mrs. E. Childester and Mrs J. M. Brown, with Messrs Jos Coleman and R. B. Crawford, assigned to 3d ward. Miss Flora Richards and ———, with Messrs J. H. Justus and W. C. Richard, to 4th ward.

The chairman and secretary were chosen to secure the active co-operation of persons residing in the several localities outside of the city limits. J. H. Hunt and T. H. Seaman was appointed to prepare an address to the citizens of Massillon and vicinity, in relation to the proposed monument Also, to prepare books, or lists for subscription. The secretary was directed to correspond with the Tucker Manufacturing Co, at Boston, in relation to a statue to be placed on the proposed monument. In order to give time to the various sub-committee to perfect their arrangements, the committee adjourned to meet at the residence of Mrs J M. Brown on Monday evening, July 1st, 1872.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Wednesday Evn'g, June 12th, 1872.

The council met in regular session and was called to order by the president. Members present—Messrs. Willenborg. Folger, Altekruse, Kirkland, Warwick and Crone.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

Mr. Folger, of the standing committee on judiciary, to whom was referred the ordinance entitled an ordinance to prohibit certain sports and games named therein, from being played upon any street, alley, or public ground, within the city of Massillon, beg leave to report the same back with an amendment, and also to recommend its indefinite postponement.

On motion of Mr Kirkland the above entitled ordinance was indefinitely postponed.

Mr Warwick, of the standing committee on finance reported an ordinance fixing the rate of taxation for the city of Massillon for the year 1872, which received its lawful readings and was passed.

The amount of the levy for the use of the city being fixed at eight mills on each dollar of taxable property within the city.

The street commissioner submitted his regular report of work done on the streets and alleys for the week ending June 8th, to be $58,51, and amount of poll tax received, $18.

Mr Crone offered the following:

Resolved, That the committee on printing be instructed to advertise for sealed proposals to do the city printing for one year.

The above resolution was lost by the following vote: Yeas, Crone, Folger, and Oberlin. Nays, Altekruse, Kirkland, Warwick and Willenborg.

The following amounts were allowed and orders drawn for the same.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets.

SIZE OF PELLETS.

Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive and nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet presents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in the drug shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in proportion to their size, people who have not used them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect, but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gentle and kindly operating cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any Calomel or other forms of mercury or any other mineral poison.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Blotched feeling about the skin, Rush of Blood to Head, High Colored Urine, Unsociability, and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is unity—a simple and effective clearing their sanative impress. Age does not impair them; their sugar-coating and being enclosed in glass bottles preserve their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable, which is not the case with the pills found in the drug stores, put up in cheap wood or paste-board boxes. Recollect that in all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative or Purgative is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.

They are sold by all enterprising Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

Do not allow any druggist to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good as my Pellets because he makes a larger profit on that which he recommends. If your druggist cannot supply them, enclose 25 cents, and receive them by return mail from

A Pitiful Condition.

It is a sad thing to pass through life half alive. Yet there are thousands whose habitual condition is one of languor and debility They complain of no specific disease; they suffer no positive pain; but they have no relish for anything which affords mental or sensous pleasure. In nine cases out of ten this state of lassitude and torpor arises from a morbid stomach. Indigestion destroys the the energy of both mind and body. When the waste of nature is not supplied by a due and regular assimilation of the food, every organ is starved, every function interrupted.

Now, what does common sense suggest under these circumstances of depression? The system needs rousing and strengthening not merely for an hour or two, to sink afterward into a more pitiable condition than ever (as it assuredly resorted to,) but radically and permanently.

How is this desirable object to be accomplished? The answer to this question, founded on the unvaring experience of a quarter of a century, is easily given. Infuse new vigor into the digestive organs by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Do not waste time by administering temporary remedies, but wake the system up by recuperating the fountain head of physical strength and energy, the great organ upon which all the other organs depend for their nurture and support.

By the time that a dozen doses of the great vegetable tonic and invigorant have been taken, the feeble frame of the dyspeptic will begin to feel its benign influence. Appetite will be created, and with appetite the capacity to digest what it craves Persevere until the cure is complete—until healthful blood, fit to be the material of flesh muscle, bone and nerve and brain, flows through the channels of circulation, instead of the watery pabulum which they have heretofore been imperfectly nourished.

John Spangler

Of Sippo Lake has constructed or invented a new beehive which combines all the advantages that can be embodied in such an article. The apiarian has perfect control of his colony of workers, and the hive is so contrived as to be proof against millers, moths and all this sort of intruders, while he devices for changing swarms, taking out honey, and cleaning out are ingenious, simple and perfect. It is called the King Bee hive, and the proprietors are Messrs Myers, Walser & Spangler. Adam Mong of this place, manufactures these hives, and he and the patentees will sell individual or township rights 457—3m

Our patrons will see on referring to the whole number of the paper on first page that this issue completes the ninth year of the existence of the MASSILLON INDEPENDENT. Four hundred and sixty eight is the product of 52 multiplied by nine—fifty two papers making a year. For the kind indulgence and liberal patronage of our friends we are under many obligations and trust that our labors in behalf of the city and vicinity have not been in vain We propose to pursue our efforts in the same direction and hope that that liberality which has heretofore been extended toward us will be continued. Unceasing, continuous and persistent watchfulness are required to carry on even a comparatively small paper, and to the uninitiated few if any can appreciate the position of one who tries to fill the position of editor Scarce a moment of time can be called his own—for while not at work among the types, he should be looking up local items, and if that resource is exhausted attention to how the world wags along elsewhere will take other minutes, and even hours. Thus there is no rest for one in this position, not even during the wakeful part of the night, and Sunday is often confiscated—the pencil don't stop because the preacher is at work, but it is

Write, write, write,
And keep on writing. But it is unnecessary to spin out a long essay on this theme, for it has been so thoroughly ventilated as to almost prove a bore to the reader. But, Mr. Reader, if you don't take the INDEPENDENT you ought to, so you could criticise it, more freely. During nine years we have doubtless made a fair share of mistakes, but our indulgent patrons have generally overlooked them; he is fortunate who don't blunder some time or other.

Rev John Tonner will preach in the Presbyterian church next Sunday, the 23d inst., at 10½ o'clock, a m. All are invited.

Bro. Frost, the chief ink slinger of this paper, is spending a few days with his family at New Lisbon. If our readers find more than the usual complement of errors this week, they can attach the blame to the "Devil."

A scrub game of base ball was played in Kendall on Saturday afternoon, between a Canton and a Massillon club. The Massillon boys were the victors.

A horse and buggy, which had been standing hitched to a post all night was taken care of by the marshal Saturday morning.

Instead of saying in last week's notice of Messrs. Gray & Lowe's sewing machine depot, that they sold two hundred and forty during last year, it should have been thus—they intend selling that number the coming year.

Now is a good time to plant worthless cats and dogs. Plant deep and put twenty feet of dirt on them.

On Saturday last the republicans of Stark, Columbiana and Carroll counties held their primary elections, but what the result was we have not yet learned. In this city electioneering of the liviest kind was the order of the day. The candidates or official honors, and their friends, worked hard to secure the nomination. The following is the result or Perry townswip, including the city of Massillon: For Congress—Arvine C Wales 103, Joseph Bruff 1, John Hunter 19, Henry S Martin 1, James W Underhill 197. Robert W Taylor 0, L D Woodworth 0, E Ball 0. Congressional Delegates—Clement Russell, R B Crawford, S C Bowman, Anson Pease, O G Madison, Wm F Ricks, and J H Justus. Probate Judge—A W Heldenbrand 385, Peter Chance 193. County Commissioner—Isaiah Johnson 27, Peter Folk 58, Joshua Wood 317, Z B Johnson 84, Daniel Stables 31, Christian Wingard 40. Infirmary Director—Samuel Stover 621. Central Committeeman—W B Humberger.

The new frame two story building, just being put up by the Shauf Bros. on the corner of Erie and Plum streets, is making a fine addition to that part of the town. It will be finished up in handsome style, as it is designed for a candy factory.

E. D. Chidester's sewing machine agency, on Erie street, is a place much frequented by people in search of that indispensable piece of household furniture. Mr. C. has a lively sign perched on the top of the house.

A lively skirmish took place in front of Loeffler's Saturday evening last, caused by election excitement. One man called another man hard names, and a fight was the result. One of the skirmishers had his eye draped in mourning, when the marshal appeared and took them before the mayor, who assessed one of them $5 and costs. "Water! W-a-t-e-r!"

The barbars now put the Dolly Varden touch on the heads of the young men who are able to afford a hair dress every time they go to an evening party; the style consists in pasting the hair down lower than ever on the forehead, and making a regular Mose soap lock in front of each ear. The wearers then look sweet enough to kick.

Last Monday evening quite an excitement was raised on Erie street by a fight, in which several gen'men ob color were the principal actors, one of whom drew a knife and cut the other somewhat severely in the arm. What was the cause of the row we have not learned, but fighting is mighty poor business for either white men or niggers.

John Sims and Ed Brown, professors of "whitewashology," are engaged in touching up a few dark spots on the ceiling of this office.

Last Friday was a pretty active day for our vigilant marshal. Whisky guzzlers stood a small chance, for he grabbed up and inserted five of them in the calaboose. But what of those who sold the liquor? Are they ready to make more drunks? That is their trade.

Mr. Barnum takes a lively interest in behalf of the temperance cause, and sometimes lectures on that subject. On his visit at Cleveland a lecture is announced by him. He is to be here on the 2.st, and if he skips Wooster may remain here a day longer. If so, why can't we have a lecture from him? A crowd can easily be had should such a move be made.

After several days of suffering Engelbert Heizen, the man who was so severely wounded on Sunday the 19th inst, by being thrown from his buggy, died on last Thursday evening, at the residence of his father in-law, Mr Knoblock. His physician, Dr Metz, did everything possible to save life, but the injuries sustained were of a fatal character, so that no medical skill could avail.

On last Friday noon, as Mr John Peppers was going from his work to dinner, when near the R. R. crossing, on East street, he was attacked by a party vagabond tramps, consisting of two women and three men, one of whom threw a stone striking Mr. P. in the head, knocking him down, when the whole party pitched in and began to beat him unmercifully. John not relishing this treatment soon got on his feet and showed fight, and succeeded knocking a couple of them out of time, when the others took to their heels. One of the ruffs was so badly thrashed that he looked as though he had been kicked by a mule and struck by lightning in the bargain. The other one eats spoon victuals now.

Sometime last year the town council of New Lisbon enacted an ordinance forbidding the sale of liquor. Last spring the liquorites elected what they called a reform ticket, and the present council in voting on the repeal or no repeal of the anti-liquor ordinance, were equally divided, but the mayor, Dr. Cushman, gave the casting vote in favor of repeal. We thought the mayor was too good a man for that sort of work—but as the Indian said, "white man is berry unsartin."

We have been favored with a beautifully printed copy of the second Industrial Exposition, at Cincinnati, which began Sept. 6th and continued to October 7th, 1871. From the interest taken in this comparatively new institution by mechanics, manufacturers and business men generally, it is evident that it is rapidly increasing in general favor.

Last week we might say that in this vicinity, and perhaps at many other places in Stark county there were indications of earthquakes, or at least of an immense amount of ague, as the period was a most shaky era in our history. Candidates were very plenty, and all of them exceedingly industrious in shaking hands with everybody that can vote—that is the sort of general quaking we had. All styles of this ceremony were indulged in—the pump handle, the circular, the see saw, the wiggle-waggle, the light grip, the bear grip, and all the intermediates were the order of the day. Let us hope that none of these shakes will prove fatal to those who participated.

E D. McClymonds, of Massillon, presents his name as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge, subject to the preference of the voters of Stark county, and in harmony with the liberal movement being inaugurated.

The Curse of Temperance finds some of its most insidious and dangerous foes in the many so called tonics and appetizers made of cheap whisky and refuse liquors, finished up to suit depraved appetites, under the name of medicines. Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are none of these. They are not a beverage but a genuine medicine, purely vegetable, prepared from California herbs by a regular physician For all diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder, skin and blood, they are an infallible and unrivalled remedy. 4w

The Torments of Life—Consumption.—Chronic diseases may be justly esteemed the torments of life. With a lingering and consuming fever they waste by degrees one function after another, until the whole are exhausted and ready to succumb. Their unfortunate victim may not be racked with that intenser anguish peculiar to acute maladies, but he is nevertheless a constant and continuous sufferer, which, if summed up in the aggregate, would more than outweigh the most painful of acute diseases. These chronic diseases all have a starting point; they will either culminate in an acute disease, or until the constitution is a wreck, or they will gradually get better of themselves and a spontaneous cure will take place This seldom happens, and if it does, it only shows that nature is kinder to us than we have been to ourselves The proper course to pursue is to apply to some one who has made chronic diseases the study of his life. If a cure be possible, such a person will be sure to cure you. Do not go after quacks and charlatans, traveling unknown medicine men, but seek out some good home physician; make inquiry as to his ability and experience and the cures he has made; if possible, see those who have been cured by him. In consumptive diseases this is doubly important. Read Dr. Keyser's treatise on chronic lung diseases; you will find some real cures in it, made by Dr Keyser's Lung Cure. If you read it, it cannot fail to convince you that he understands the subject and treats the disease knowingly and scientifically, Price o Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure $1.5 per bottle, or four bottles sent anywhere for $5. Dr Keyser's office and consulting rooms, 167 Liberty street, Pittsburg, from 10 a m until 1 p m, and from 3 until 6 p m, and on Saturdays until 9 at night.

Talk at the Toilet—Every lady's maid knows that the bewitching beings who pave their triumphant way with conquered hearts, regard a splendid head of hair the most effective of all womanly fascinations. They believe, and they are right, they can lasso as many beaux with the luxuriant ringlets and glossy braids as they can "kill at sight" with their beaming eyes. Hence in their toilet talk among themselves and with their attendants, the merits of preparations for the hair are freely canvassed, and the latest result of this discussion seems to be the almost universal adoption of Lyon's Kathairon as an article better adapted to promote the growth and beauty of the 'Chief Glory of Woman' that any other at present before the world They say that without irritating the skin of the head it eradicates dandruff, and that it penetrates below the surface to the roots of the hair, endowing them with new life and vigor.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment.—Scurvy and diseases of the skin—fever, restless sleep, foul stomach, tainted breath, languid depression of spirits, always attendant on the worst cases of cutaneous eruptions, are speedily radically removed by these medicines—the Ointment cleanses the skin, and the Pills purify the blood, stimulate the liver, and promote digestion. 25 cts per box or pot.

You who lead sedentary lives—printers, tailors, shoemakers, etc., will find a great relief for the constipation from which you so often suffer, by taking Simmon's liver regulator. It is a simple, harmless, vegetable compound, sure to relieve you, and can do no injury.

Such a filthy and profuse nasal discharge! Where does it all come from? The little glands in the tissue lining the chambers of the nose are ulcerated and diseased, drawing from the system its corruption It is an outlet for its impurities. Stop this discharge by using the many advertised strong liquids snuffs and inhalants, and you make an outlet in the lungs or elsewhere. The disease is translated to another locality more fatal. The rational way to cure is to correct the system by using Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which tones it up, cleanses the blood and heals the diseased glands by a specific influence upon them, and to assist use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, the only way to reach the upper and, back cavities where the discharge comes from. No danger from this treatment and it is the only sure cure. The douche and two medicines sold at once by druggists for $2.

THE NEW FAMILY
SINGER SEWING MACHINE

The undersigned has opened rooms for the sale of this celebrated Sewing Machine, three doors north from McLain, Dangler & Co's store, Erie street, Massillon, O., where he intends to keep on hand a full assortment of Sewing Machines, needles, attachments, and findings for all machines. Silks and threads of best quality,

This NEW FAMILY MACHINE is capable of a range and variety of work such as was thought impossible to perform by machinery. We claim and can show that it is the cheapest, most beautiful, delicately arranged, nicely adjusted, easily operated, and smoothly running of all family sewing machines. It is remarkable not only for the range and variety of its sewing, but also for the variety and different kinds of texture which it will sew with equal facility and perfection, using silk twist, linen or cotton thread, fine or coarse, making the interlocked elastic-stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewn. Thus, beaver cloth, or leather, may be sewn with great strength and uniformity of stich; and, in a moment, this willing and never wearying instrument may be adjusted for fine work on gauze or gossamer tissue, or the tucking of fariatan, or ruffling, or almost any other work which delicate fingers have been known to perform

Purchasers wishing to buy a machine are requested to call and examine our prices &c, before purchasing elsewhere

Our patrons will see on referring to the whole number of the paper on first page that this issue completes the ninth year of the existence of the MASSILLON INDEPENDENT. Four hundred and sixty eight is the product of 52 multiplied by nine—fifty two papers making a year. For the kind indulgence and liberal patronage of our friends we are under many obligations and trust that our labors in behalf of the city and vicinity have not been in vain We propose to pursue our efforts in the same direction and hope that that liberality which has heretofore been extended toward us will be continued. Unceasing, continuous and persistent watchfulness are required to carry on even a comparatively small paper, and to the uninitiated few if any can appreciate the position of one who tries to fill the position of editor Scarce a moment of time can be called his own—for while not at work among the types, he should be looking up local items, and if that resource is exhausted attention to how the world wags along elsewhere will take other minutes, and even hours. Thus there is no rest for one in this position, not even during the wakeful part of the night, and Sunday is often confiscated—the pencil don't stop because the preacher is at work, but it is

Write, write, write,

And keep on writing. But it is unnecessary to spin out a long essay on this theme, for it has been so thoroughly ventilated as to almost prove a bore to the reader. But, Mr. Reader, if you don't take the INDEPENDENT you ought to, so you could criticise it, more freely. During nine years we have doubtless made a fair share of mistakes, but our indulgent patrons have generally overlooked them; he is fortunate who don't blunder some time or other.

Rev John Tonner will preach in the Presbyterian church next Sunday, the 23d inst., at 10½ o'clock, a m. All are invited.

Bro: Frost, the chief ink slinger of this paper, is spending a few days with his family at New Lisbon. If our readers find more than the usual compliment of errors this week, they can attach the blame to the "Devil."

A scrub game of base ball was played in Kendall on Saturday afternoon, between a Canton and a Massillon club. The Massillon boys were the victors.

A horse and buggy, which had been standing hitched to a post all night was taken care of by the marshal Saturday morning.

Instead of saying in last week's notice of Messrs. Gray & Lowe's sewing machine depot, that they sold two hundred and forty during last year, it should have been thus—they intend selling that number the coming year.

Now is a good time to plant worthless cats and dogs. Plant deep and put twenty feet of dirt.

On Saturday last the republicans of Stark, Columbiana and Carroll counties held their primary elections, but what the result was we have not yet learned. In this city electioneering of the liviest kind was the order of the day. The candidates or official honors, and their friends, worked hard to secure the nomination. The following is the result of Perry townswip, including the city of Massillon: For Congress—Arvine C Wales 103, Joseph Bruff 1, John Hunter 19, Henry S Martin 1, James W Underhill 197. Robert W Taylor 0, L D Woodworth 0, E Ball 0. Congressional Delegates—Clement Russell, R B Crawford, S C Bowman, Anson Pease, O G Madison, Wm F Ricks, and J H Justus. Probate Judge—A W Heldenbrand 385, Peter Chance 193. County Commissioner—Isaiah Johnson 27, Peter Folk 58, Joshua Wood 317, Z B Johnson 84, Daniel Stabler 31, Christian Wingard 40. Infirmary Director—Samuel Stover 621. Central Committeeman—W B Humberger.

The new frame two story building, just being put up by the Shauf Bros. on the corner of Erie and Plum streets, is making a fine addition to that part of the town. It will be finished up in handsome style, as it is designed for a candy factory.

E. D. Chidester's sewing machine agency, on Erie street, is a place much frequented by people in search of that indispensable piece of household furniture. Mr. C. has a lively sign perched on the top of the house.

A lively skirmish took place in front of Loeffler's Saturday evening last, caused by election excitement. One man called another man hard names, and a fight was the result. One of the skirmishers had his eye draped in mourning, when the marshal appeared and took them before the mayor, who assessed one of them $5 and costs. "Water! W-a-t-e-r!"

The barbars now put the Dolly Varden touch on the heads of the young men who are able to afford a hair dress every time they go to an evening party; the style consists in pasting the hair down lower than ever on the forehead, and making a regular Mose soap lock in front of each ear. The wearers then look sweet enough to kick.

Last Monday evening quite an excitement was raised on Erie street by a fight, in which several gen'men ob color were the principal actors, one of whom drew a knife and cut the other somewhat severely in the arm. What was the cause of the row we have not learned, but fighting is mighty poor business for either white men or niggers.

John Sims and Ed Brown, professors of "whitewashology," are engaged in touching up a few dark spots on the ceiling of this office.

Last Friday was a pretty active day for our vigilant marshal. Whisky guzzlers stood a small chance, for he gobbled up and inserted five of them in the calaboose. But what of those who sold the liquor? Are they really to make more drunks? That is their trade.

Mr. Barnum takes a lively interest in behalf of the temperance cause, and sometimes lectures on that subject. On his visit at Cleveland a lecture is announced by him. He is to be here on the 2.st, and if he skips Wooster may remain here a day longer. If so, why can't we have a lecture from him? A crowd can easily be had should such a move be made.

After several days of suffering Engelbert Heizen, the man who was so severely wounded on Sunday the 19th inst, by being thrown from his buggy, died on last Thursday evening, at the residence of his father in-law, Mr. Knoblock. His physician, Dr Metz, did everything possible to save life, but the injuries sustained were of a fatal character, so that no medical skill could avail.

On last Friday noon, as Mr. John Peppers was going from his work to dinner, when near the R. R. crossing, on East street, he was attacked by a party fvagabond tramps, consisting of two women and three men, one of whom threw a stone striking Mr. P. in the head, knocking him down, when the whole party pitched in and began to beat him unmercifully. John not relishing this treatment soon got on his feet and showed fight, and succeeded knocking a couple of them out of time, when the others took to their heels. One of the ruffs was so badly thrashed that he looked as though he had been kicked by a mule, and struck by lightning in the bargain. The other one eats spoon victuals now.

Sometime last year the town council of New Lisbon enacted an ordinance forbidding the sale of liquor. Last spring the liquorites elected what they called a reform ticket, and the present council in voting on the repeal or no repeal of the anti-liquor ordinance, were equally divided, but the mayor, Dr Cushman, gave the casting vote in favor of repeal. We thought the mayor was too good a man for that sort of work—but as the Indian said, "white man is berry unsartin."

We have been favored with a beautifully printed copy of the second Industrial Exposition, at Cincinnati, which began Sept. 6th and continued to October 7th, 1871. From the interest taken in this comparatively new institution by mechanics, manufacturers and business men generally, it is evident that it is rapidly increasing in general favor.

Last week we might say that in this vicinity, and perhaps at many other places in Stark county there were indications of earthquakes, or at least of an immense amount of ague, as the period was a most shaky era in our history. Candidates were very plenty, and all of them exceedingly industrious in shaking hands with everybody that can vote—that is the sort of general quaking we had. All styles of this ceremony were indulged in—the pump handle, the circular, the see saw, the wiggle-waggle, the light grip, the bear grip, and all the intermediates were the order of the day. Let us hope that none of these shakes will prove fatal to those who participated.

E D. McClymonds, of Massillon, presents his name as a candidate for the office of Probate Judge, subject to the preference of the voters of Stark county, and in harmony with the liberal movement being inaugurated.

Said another she shan't.

The Cause of Temperance finds some of its most insidious and dangerous foes in the many so called tonics and appetizers made of cheap whisky and refuse liquors, finished up to suit depraved appetites, under the name of medicines. Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are none of these. They are not a beverage but a genuine medicine, purely vegetable, prepared from California herbs by a regular physician For all diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder, skin and blood, they are an infallible and unrivalled remedy. 4w

The Torments of Life-Consumption.—Chronic diseases may be justly esteemed the torments of life. With a lingering and consuming fever they waste by degrees one function after another, until the whole are exhausted and ready to succumb. Their unfortunate victim may not be racked with that intenser anguish peculiar to acute maladies, but he is nevertheless a constant and continuous sufferer, which, if summed up in the aggregate, would more than outweigh the most fearful of acute diseases. These chronic diseases all have a starting point; they will either culminate in an acute disease, or until the constitution is a wreck; or they will gradually get better of themselves and a spontaneous cure will take place This seldom happens, and if it does, it only shows that nature is kinder to us than we have been to ourselves. The proper course to pursue is to apply to some one who has made chronic diseases the study of his life. If a cure be possible, such a person will be sure to cure you. Do not go after quacks and charlatans, traveling unknown medicine men, but seek out some good home physician; make inquiry as to his ability and experience and the cures he has made; if possible, see those who have been cured by him. In consumptive diseases this is doubly important. Read Dr. Keyser's treatise on chronic lung diseases; you will find some real cures in it, made by Dr Keyser's Lung Cure. If you read it, it cannot fail to convince you that he understands the subject and treats the disease knowingly and scientifically, Price o Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure $1.50 per bottle, or four bottles sent anywhere for $5. Dr Keyser's office and consulting rooms, 167 Liberty street, Pittsburg, from 10 a m until 1 p m, and from 3 until 6 p m, and on Saturdays until 9 at night.

Talk at the Toilet—Every lady's maid knows that the bewitching beings who pave their triumphant way with conquered hearts, regard a splendid head of hair the most effective of all womanly facinations. They believe, and they are right, they can lasso as many beaux with the luxuriant ringlets and glossy braids as they can "kill at sight" with their beaming eyes. Hence in their 'toilet talk' among themselves and with their attendants, the merits of preparations for the hair are freely canvassed, and the latest result of this discussion seems to be the almost universal adoption of Lyon's Kathairon as an article better adapted to promote the growth and beauty of the 'Chief Glory of Woman' that any other at present before the world They say that without irritating the skin of the head it eradicates dandruff, and that it penetrates below the surface to the roots of the hair, endowing them with new life and vigor.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment.—Scurvy and diseases of the skin—fever, restless sleep, foul stomach, tainted breath, languid depression of spirits, always attendant on the worst cases of cutaneous eruptions, are speedily radically removed by these medicines—the Ointment cleanses the skin, and the Pills purify the blood, stimulate the liver, and promote digestion. 25 cts per box or pot.

You who lead sedentary lives—printers, tailors, shoemakers, etc, will find a great relief for the constipation from which you so often suffer, by taking Simmon's liver regulator. It is a simple, harmless, vegetable compound, sure to relieve you, and can do no injury.

Such a filthy and profuse nasal discharge! Where does it all come from? The little glands in the tissue lining the chambers of the nose are ulcerated and diseased, drawing from the system its corruption It is an outlet for its impurities. Stop this discharge by using the many advertised strong liquids snuffs and inhalants, and you make an outlet in the lungs or elsewhere. The disease is translated to another locality more fatal. The rational way to cure is to correct the system by using Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which tones it up, cleanses the blood and heals the diseased glands by a specific influence upon them, and to assist, use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, the only way to reach the upper and back cavities where the discharge comes from. No danger from this treatment and it is the only sure cure. The douche and two medicines sold at once by druggists for $2.

THE NEW FAMILY

SINGER SEWING MACHINE

The undersigned has opened rooms for the sale of this celebrated Sewing Machine, three doors north from McLain, Dangler & Co's store, Erie street, Massillon, O., where he intends to keep on hand a full assortment of Sewing Machines, needles, attachments, and findings for all machines. Silks and threads of best quality.

This NEW FAMILY MACHINE is capable of a range and variety of work such as was thought impossible to perform by machinery. We claim and can show that it is the cheapest, most beautiful, delicately arranged, nicely adjusted, easily operated, and smoothly running of all family sewing machines. It is remarkable not only for the range and variety of its sewing, but also for the variety and different kinds of texture which it will sew with equal facility and perfection, using silk twist, linen or cotton thread, fine or coarse, making the interlocked elastic-stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewn. Thus, beaver cloth, or leather, may be sewn with great strength and uniformity of stich; and, in a moment, this willing and never wearying instrument may be adjusted for fine work on gauze or gossamer tissue, or the tucking of tarnatan, or ruffling, or almost any other work which delicate fingers have been known to perform

Purchasers wishing to buy a machine are requested to call and examine our prices &c, before purchasing elsewhere
